

Order SAY what

Developed by and for teen writers and published by Young Chicago Authors, Say What Magazine is Chicago's premier youth writing publication, as well as an innovative teaching tool full of creative ideas for teaching all forms of writing. It is an indispensable resource for emerging writers, educators and all of those who are interested in the lives and creative expression of young people.

Say What is a FREE publication. However, to offset the cost of printing the magazine, we request donations of $60 for each classroom set of 30 magazines. If this amount is prohibitive to you or your organization, we would welcome a donation in any amount you're able to contribute. If you have any questions, please call Natasha at 773.486.4331, or email her at Natarana@aol.com. Please mail all orders to:

Say What/Young Chicago Authors
1180 N. Milwaukee
Chicago, IL 60642

=====

Say What Magazine Order Form

Organization Name: _____

Contact Name: _____

Contact Phone Number: _____ Email Address: _____

Organization Address: _____

City: _____ State/Province: _____

Postal Code: _____ Country: _____

Say What comes in class sets of 30 magazines.
of class sets you would like to receive: _____

You may also request individual copies of Say What.
of individual copies you would like to receive: _____

NEW! Request a Sample Copy of Say What Curriculum Guide _____

*Amount of Donation: $ _____ Please remit checks to Young Chicago Authors

- Bring Say What to your school! Check here if you'd like to host a Say What informational meeting at your school to let your students know about opportunities to work on the magazine, and to give us feedback on the latest issue.
- Make Say What a better classroom tool for teachers! Check here if you'd be interested in learning more about becoming a Say What teacher advisor.